

How child safe is my tourism business?

Take the test

Please tick the correct answer	Yes	No
Staff in my business are aware about child exploitation in tourism
Staff in my business know how to identify whether a child may be at risk of exploitation
Staff in my business know how respond and report possible cases of child exploitation, especially sexual abuse
My business supports local vulnerable families, schools and /or social programs in helping children.
Staff in my business have been trained about the issue of child exploitation in tourism
My business has a child protection policy which we actively implement to prevent child exploitation
My business informs customers/partner companies about our commitment to protect children
My business raises general issues and concerns of child exploitation at community and tourism forums

Results:

If you ticked 'Yes' for all of the above questions, your business is taking excellent steps to protect children. Keep up the good work!

If you ticked 'No' for any questions, visit www.childsafetourism.org to learn about more ways you can positively build a protective environment for children.

